

Mark Cuban and Martin Woodall Support Make a Wish Foundation

Zach (pictured on left) and his friends enjoyed a magic show before the trip.

Martin Woodall helps prep the private jet bound for Disney World prior to takeoff.

Zach Guillot is 7 years old and has been diagnosed with a rare form of leukemia. After an unsuccessful bone marrow transfer and a round of chemotherapy, his parents reached out to the Make a Wish Foundation, so that their family could take a break and enjoy a Disney vacation together. Make a Wish families are usually flown to their destination on American Airlines.

Unfortunately commercial airline travel is impossible given Zach's delicate condition. Mark Cuban was made aware of the situation and generously underwrote the cost of a private jet, and Martin made the arrangements with Jet Linx Aviation to fly the Guillot family from Dallas to Orlando, FL for a week of fun at Disney World.

Woodall Foundation Awards Grants to Four Beneficiaries

Martin Woodall presented checks to the Woodall Foundation beneficiaries

The Woodall Foundation challenged its beneficiaries to see which of them could best use a $15,000 grant. Each of the organizations was asked to submit a detailed proposal of how they would use the money if awarded. Bryan's House requested funds to provide new furniture for the classrooms and overnight rooms at its new facility. The Texas Discovery Gardens needed underwriting for its educational programs and for a new community garden. The Cancer Support Community required a sponsor for their summer youth camp. The Autism Treatment Center needed a new vehicle to transport its members. Picking just one of these equally deserving proposals proved to be a difficult task. Therefore Martin and the Woodall Foundation board members chose to award all the beneficiaries with a $15,000 grant. A check presentation ceremony was held at Sfuzzi's Uptown restaurant recognizing each of the beneficiaries for the excellent work they do in "building a brighter future for kids".
