

Woodall Foundation and Dallas Mavericks Care Van

Children in communities across Dallas are safer from infectious diseases today, thanks to the combined efforts of the Woodall Foundation, the Dallas Mavericks Foundation and the Caring for Children Foundation's Care Van Program. The Woodall Foundation and the Dallas Mavericks each provided $25,000 in funding for the new van. This van will be dispatched throughout the Dallas area to provide immunizations for underprivileged children and their families.

In addition to being a remote immunization unit, the Care Van will also be used to promote healthy living through a series of clinics and workshops encouraging local residents to improve their eating habits and exercise routines. For more information on the Care Van Program or to schedule an appearance, please visit www.bcbstx.com/carevan.

Woodall Foundation Holiday Collections Drive

This holiday season the Woodall Foundation wanted to provide its beneficiaries with some of the items they need the most. Toy donations are plentiful during the holidays, but it's the practical necessities that are often overlooked. Items such as batteries, office supplies, disposal cameras and baby products are essential to the operations of all children's charity organizations.

Again this year the Woodall Foundation had many friends and supporters who were eager to help.

Woodall Foundation board member, Clorinda Pantely, organized a collections drive at Bradfield Elementary as part of the school's community service project. Edward Hohn and Kent Little contributed by accepting donations at their Children's Charity Ball on December 15th. They also held a raffle and silent auction that raised over $7,500 for the Woodall Foundation.

Director of development, Adam Carriker, sorted and delivered the donated items on December 22nd to the Woodall Foundation's beneficiaries, who immediately put them to use. The efforts made by our wonderful donors helped ensure that no child in the Woodall Foundation network went without this holiday season.

Woodall Foundation Fundraiser in the West Village

Leary Forteau, Angie Miller, Martin Woodall, and Adam Carriker at the West Village Fundraiser

On Friday, September 22nd, the Woodall Foundation was pleased to participate in the grand opening celebration of the West Village's newest retail store, the Milan Shoe Salon. In addition to hosting the festivities, the store's owner, Angie Miller, donated 10% of that day's sales from all of her stores to the Woodall Foundation. Those in attendance enjoyed a wide variety of musical entertainment and refreshments compliments of several West Village restaurants. A special thanks goes to Taco Diner, Nikita, Ferre, and Mi Cocina. Other merchants in the shopping center also contributed by donating gift certificates that were used as raffle prizes. The entire event was such a success, that a second one is already being planned for this spring. Be on the lookout for more details.

"Noogies" Visit the Texas Discovery Gardens

Martin Woodall has been a long time supporter of many local children's charity organizations in particular, the Texas Discovery Gardens. That connection has made it possible for the Woodall Foundation to sponsor educational field trips to the Texas Discovery Gardens for its beneficiaries. The youth program at Gilda's Club, more affectionately known as "Noogieland", was the first group to take such a trip. The new Director of Children's Education at the Texas Discovery Gardens, Joan Youngblood, guided the kids through a tour of the gardens and provided each of them with the materials to build their own terrarium. Similar outings are also scheduled for the members of Bryan's House and the Autism Treatment Center.
