Irving YMCA's Doug Fox and Woodall Foundation President Martin Woodall with donated mountain bikes

The second annual Brandel Chamblee's Irving Charity Golf Tournament was held June 6th on the TPC course at the Four Seasons Resort and Club in Las Colinas. Woodall Foundation friend, Andy Nadel served on the tournament's planning committee and help connect the two groups in "building a brighter future for kids".

All together five organizations benefited from this event that has grossed more than $350K in its first two years. Martin donated a pair of mountain bikes to the tournament's live auction that were sold for $800 each. This year's event proceeds will fund: school backpacks for hundreds of needy children, youth leadership and financial literacy programs, obesity battling exercises, education programs for children and their families, and after school programs for more than 8,000 kids. Woodall Foundation Sponsors Circus Experience for Deserving Kids

The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus made its annual visit to the American Airlines Center in Dallas from July 30th through August 10th. This year marks the 143rd edition of the Greatest Show On Earth, entitled "Built To Amaze" and features performers from across the globe attempting incredible feats of strength, agility and courage. The Woodall Foundation along with our friends and supporters were happy to provide over 150 tickets to the members at Bryan's House, the Cancer Support Community and the Autism Treatment Center so that some deserving children and their families could attend this once in a lifetime event together. It takes almost a full year to raise enough to purchase these tickets, so log on to www.woodallfoundation.com today, and select the DONATE button.

Each summer the Woodall Foundation partners with its beneficiaries to provide fun and educational activities for the kids we service. This year has been another busy one, and with the summer winding down and school quickly approaching, we thought we'd provide an overview of what we've been up to.

The Cancer Support Community recently held its annual Camp Noggie. This week long event features a series of arts and crafts as well as other activities. In addition to the fun and games, campers are bound together do to the impacts of cancer on their families. Group leaders are on hand during the week to address their questions and concerns and help them find a roll in the cancer treatment process.

Bryan's House hosted a "Back 2 School" party at its facility and invited all of the members along with their families. This fun afternoon included games and prizes, face painting, a deejay and a cookout. This party was also an opportunity for these medically challenged kids to prepare for the upcoming school year by picking up their school supplies free of charge. There was even a barber on hand to provide back to school haircuts for everyone. In total over 100 kids received backpacks filled with everything they'll need for a successful school year.
