

Woodall Foundation and Texas Discovery Gardens Scholarship Update

Almost 900 students have been able to experience the wonders of the butterfly house thanks to the Woodall Foundation

Since November there have been a lot of happy faces in the Rosine Smith Sammons Butterfly House and Insectarium thanks to the $2500 scholarship funded by the Woodall Foundation. This grant allowed school groups to enjoy both classroom learning and a guided tour through the butterfly house.

Initially these groups could not afford the additional $3 to allow each child to experience the insectarium and an individual butterfly release and were limited to classroom sessions while visiting the Texas Discovery Gardens. The children were thrilled to learn that special funding was available to enhance their field trip and sent numerous "Thank You" notes to the Woodall Foundation office.

Unfortunately, the groups scheduled for March used the remaining funds, and once again children are unable to tour both the gardens and the butterfly house. Please help the Texas Discovery Gardens and Woodall Foundation in "building a brighter future for kids" by donating today. For more information contact SLee@TexasDiscoveryGardens.org

Woodall Foundation Joins the Love for Kids Foundation

Volunteers distributed Woodall Foundation donated basketballs at the Love for Kids event.

On April 2nd, the Love for Kids Foundation held its annual "All Kids Count" picnic at the Circle R Ranch. This fun filled day allowed disadvantaged children to set their issues aside for the afternoon and enjoy the petting zoo, arts & crafts, pony rides, food, games and other family activities. For the second year the Woodall Foundation participated in this event by donating Woodall Foundation logo basketballs for all the children in attendance. To learn more visit www.LFK.cc.

Adam Carriker Competes for "One Man Dallas" honors

Did you know that women volunteer at a rate five times that of men? It is because of this statistic and the hope of motivating others to get involved that twenty men in the Dallas area have been recognized for their community service and volunteer work. They will compete for $5000 to be donated to the charity of their choice. Woodall Foundation Development Director, Adam Carriker, has been nominated as a finalist in this "One Man Dallas" competition. Please show your support today by logging on to www.onemandallas.com and place your vote for Adam. Following the online voting and a series of happy hours, the winner will be announced at the final event on Thursday, May 19th at the Gables Park 17 in Dallas. GOOD LUCK Adam!
