

Woodall Foundation Sponsors a Day at the Circus

This year marks the 200th anniversary of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus. The "Greatest Show on Earth" made its annual visit to Dallas from July 26th to August 7th. Once again the Woodall Foundation provided tickets to Bryan's House and the Cancer Support Community. In total over 150 deserving children and their families were able to enjoy and experience the circus together. Adam from the Woodall Foundation even accompanied a group of students from Bryan's House to an afternoon performance. A very special thanks goes everyone that helped make this possible especially Levy Restaurants for providing the box lunches distributed to the kids that day. If you missed your chance to sponsor a child's trip to the circus, it's never to late to donate for next year. ## Woodall Foundation Goes Back to School with Bryan's House

On Saturday, August 20th, Bryan's House held its annual "Back to School" celebration. In addition to collecting their necessary school supplies for the upcoming year, children and their families were invited to come for lunch and enjoy an afternoon of fun provided by the Bryan's House staff and Woodall Foundation volunteers. Each family in attendance also received a complimentary Woodall Foundation basketball to take home.

Woodall Foundation volunteers led organized coaching clinics and other activities for the kids at the Back to School Event.

Woodall Foundation Pledges to "Stand Up" Against Bullying

Martin Woodall and Ben Cohen posing with the Dallas Mavericks championship trophy following the anti-bullying summit.

The Woodall Foundation recently partnered with the Ben Cohen StandUp Foundation to raise awareness on the long-term, damaging effects of bullying, and to fund those doing real-world work to stop it.

Ben Cohen is a World Cup champion rugby player from England dedicated to standing up against bullying regardless of to whom it happens. He and Martin Woodall attended a summit on anti-bullying that was held at the American Airlines Center and together they agreed to address this growing problem effecting children and adults alike. Following the meeting, Martin guided Ben on an exclusive, all access tour of the AAC.

Woodall Foundation Donates to the Night of Superstars

Children living with and affected by varying types of disabling conditions often have to overcome great adversity. Unfortunately, they are seldom recognized or honored for these achievements. The Night of

The Woodall Foundation supported this event and donated basketballs for the goodie bags.

Superstars event was designed to make them feel like celebrities. Driven to the event in limousines and dressed in formal attire, these kids walk the red carpet lined with supporters taking pictures and asking for autographs. The Woodall Foundation was proud to participate in "building a brighter future for kids".
