Woodall Foundation delivers "SMILES"

Children's Medical Center of Dallas is a not-for-profit institution that provides life saving services to hundreds of medically fragile children each year. On March 23, Woodall Foundation visited the kids at Children's Medical Center to distribute Dallas Mavericks basketballs. Many of the patients were receiving uncomfortable treatments at the time of our visit. Basketballs were just what the doctor ordered with huge smiles arriving soon after. We anticipate many future visits to Children's. To learn more about Children's Medical Center, go to www.childrens.com

Technology Needs Growing with Gilda's Club

What's better than receiving a new computer at your home or office? Donating your old PC to a local charity. Woodall Foundation had two office computers deserving a new home. With software and memory upgrades, the desktop PC and laptop computers were donated to Gilda's Club. With fifteen dedicated employees, Gilda's was also experiencing a log jam at the networked office color printer. Woodall Foundation purchased and installed 10 new HP color printers for the staff to expedite fundraising efforts and maximize their productivity.

Dallas Mavericks Read to Achieve with DCAC

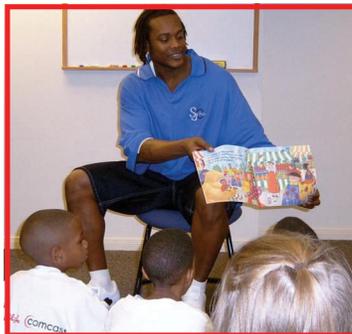

Dallas Children's Advocacy Center helps hundreds of children each year who have been removed from abusive situations.

"The mission of the Dallas Children's Advocacy Center is to break the cycle of child abuse through collaborative intervention in a child-sensitive environment."

For the last several years, the Dallas Mavericks have visited DCAC to read to groups of children as part of their Read to Achieve program. This year, Shawn Bradley, Danny Fortson, and Scott Williams participated in the educational event. The groups of kids, ages toddler to teen, were read several books and then recieved autographed photos and t-shirts as well as a group photo of themselves with the Mavericks players. This year, Woodall Foundation added a special surprise by giving the 60 children their own Dallas Mavericks/Woodall Foundation basketball. For more information about Dallas Children's Advocacy Center, go to www.dcac.org or call 214-818-2600.
